

Support for North America Remote Sites

Providing support for remote-sites operations

- Companies in the oil & gas, drilling, mining, engineering & construction industries as well as peacekeeping/emergency response endeavors that are performed in remote or offshore locations share a common concern: Providing a safe and healthy environment for their employees who both live and work at locations ranging from deepwater drilling rigs hundreds of miles offshore, camp facilities for thousands of workers at a mine construction project in the Caribbean or operations complexes that supply America's energy needs.

In response to these needs, Sodexo Remote Sites provides a variety of support services at hundreds of client locations across North America – stretching from the Arctic to the Caribbean and from the Aleutian Islands to Newfoundland.

- ↗ FOOD – GLORIOUS FOOD
Good healthy meals are essential to keeping employees safe, productive and motivated. Through quality catering and attention to detail, our experienced chefs know how to delight a diverse range of cultures, tastes and dietary requirements. And we add an extra dash of pleasure through periodic, well planned special events.

- ↗ BALANCED NUTRITION AND FOOD SAFETY
A healthy diet is key to safety and productivity at remote work sites. But after a hard day at work, hungry workers don't want to be bothered reading food labels or counting calories. Sodexo has an unparalleled reputation for bringing great nutrition to its food service operations.

We are sticklers for safe food handling practices. Our procedures are predicated upon HACCP, an analysis of hazards in the preparation of food and a systematic monitoring of critical control points including procurement, handling and shipping, on-site storage, preparation and serving.

When you're in the kitchen, demand perfection.

MORE TO CLEANING THAN SOAP AND WATER

Housekeeping, cleaning and laundry services are also important in maintaining worker morale and productivity. We provide a comprehensive housekeeping program for quarters, office and public areas to ensure a high standard of hygiene, safety and personal comfort for camp residents or rig personnel. We not only produce a first class appearance that maintains the professional image of the living quarters and furnishings, but also provide residents with a comfortable environment in which to live and work and to ensure that all living areas are safe and hygienic.

OTHER SERVICES

Sodexo Remote Sites can perform other important functions that support our clients' remote site operations, ranging from administrative and record keeping functions (billeting and meal service records); a mix of facility maintenance services for camp facilities, grounds, equipment and utilities; and numerous ancillary services such as security, recreation/entertainment programs and commissary / bonded stores services.

OUR COMMITMENT

We know that our clients' employees work extended hitches at out-of-the-way places. It is our job to make their time away from home as comfortable as possible by preparing great tasting meals, keeping their beds made, their quarters clean and washrooms spotless – and we are deeply committed to doing so in a manner that assures the safety of both our people, the guests we look after and the facilities we maintain. We are fanatical about safety, believing that no job is so important that it cannot be performed safely at all times.

Sodexo is also committed to giving back to the communities where we work, through the employment of local residents and utilization of local suppliers and vendors. We take pride in being a good neighbor as well as a good company to work for.

OUR NORTH AMERICA PRESENCE
